Bill was a member of the basketball team which was famous in the city. Hec was very tall. He could run very fast. But he didn't practice basketball hard.

Father always came to the games. But Bill thought, "Why does Father come to the games? I have never played basketball in the games."

One day Mother said to Bill, "Father must *go to the hospital." Bill was very sad to hear ①that and began to cry.

That afternoon, Father went to the hospital in the city. Bill and Mother visited him, and they could see him for a short time. When they were in his room, he said to Bill, "These are yours. I bought them yesterday. You haven't played basketball in the games, but you can become a *starter if you practice basketball the hardest of all the players on the team." They were new basketball shoes. ②Bill couldn't look at the basketball shoes.

That evening, Ken came to Bill's home to see him. Ken was Bill's friend and they were members of the same team.

"You didn't come to the *court today. Why? Are you sick now?" asked Ken.

Bill told everything to Ken. "Let's practice basketball together tomorrow," said Ken.

On the next day, Bill was on the court. Everyone was surprised. Bill was practicing basketball the hardest of all the players on the team.

The team had one month before the last game of the year. All the players practiced basketball very hard.

③The important day for the team came. Bill came to the *coach and said, "Coach, I will do everything for our team." "I see, Bill. Now you are a starter," said the coach.

The game began. Bill was playing basketball the hardest and the best of all the players. At last his team won the game. All of the players on the team were very glad.

After the game, Ken said to Bill, "Look. Your father and mother are over there." Bill was very surprised and ran to Father.

"Why are you here now, Father? Do you feel fine?" asked Bill. Father answered, "My doctor *allowed me to watch your game. I'm very happy because I can *leave the hospital next week. And I'm very happy because ④you were great today."

They looked at the basketball shoes in Bill's hands and smiled at each other.
