High Intelligence and Education

Total learning guidance from daytime classes to self-study time. Our “Complete School-Contained” education system provides students with a deep and wide knowledge that does not focus on cultivating the academic ability to pass entrance exams.

Healthy Mind

There are extensive sports facilities on the vast campus. A variety of living facilities that can follow up on students' health and nutritional management will help them develop a strong and healthy mind and body.

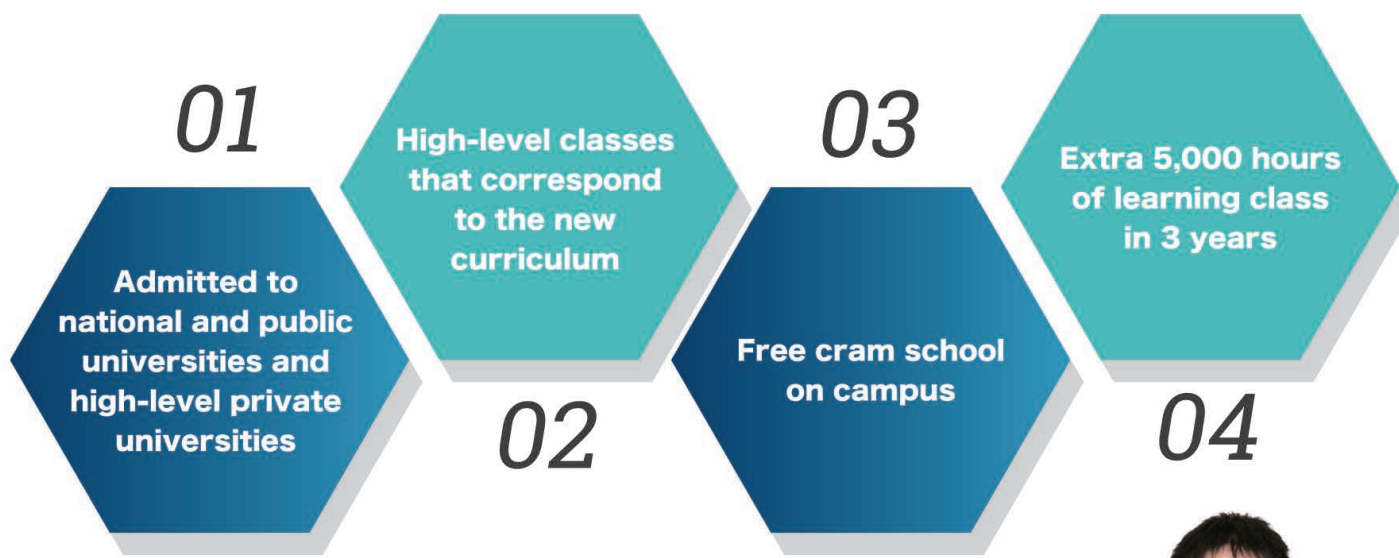

Rich Humanity

Japan Aviation Academy's educational policy, “J-Ship,” goes beyond the framework of mere school education and practices “Whole-Person Education,” which cultivates high ethical standards, social views, national views, and a rich sense of humanity.

Great Leadership

Based on the principles of “freedom and discipline,” “developing strengths,” and “feeling and creating together,” we cultivate self-confidence, patience, civility, and a spirit of feeling together. Living in the dormitory, students can acquire a high degree of independence, cooperation, and excellent leadership skills.

The Athletics & Performing Arts Advanced Course is designed for those who want to commit their all to both their studies and their club activities. While the schedule can be demanding—with evening classes, frequent quizzes, and mock exams—the sense of fulfillment and fun I experience every day far outweighs the hard work.

In this program, you learn to turn every daily experience into a learning opportunity, growing both academically and as a person. These three precious years of high school are the perfect time to master essential life skills, such as effective time management, setting priorities, and the power of consistent effort.

General Course

In the General Course, students study a wide range of humanities and science subjects, find areas of expertise, and further develop their abilities. In addition to humanities and science subjects, we also focus on foreign language learning in order to develop global human resources. We will also consider studying abroad at partner schools in the United States and overseas language training, so that we can learn more practical languages. Let's establish basic academic skills in the comprehensive course and acquire the basic academic skills necessary for higher education through high-level language education.

In the Comprehensive Course, you can build on the foundational knowledge from your daily lessons and master the advanced applications needed for university entrance exams. The curriculum allows you to study subjects outside of your primary focus (humanities or sciences), providing a broader and more well-rounded education.

Furthermore, our English seminar classes include many international students. This creates frequent opportunities to communicate in English, naturally leading to better language skills. The course also features mixed-grade classes where you study alongside students from different year levels, increasing your social circle and making school life even more rewarding. Why not join us and experience the unique learning opportunities that only the Comprehensive Course can offer?

Nomin-Erdene Gantulga

Graduate of Dornod School No. 1, Mongolia

In the Performing Arts Course, you don't just improve your technical skills—you expand your own potential. Through this program, I've learned the importance of self-expression, focus, and perseverance, and I can truly feel myself growing bit by bit every day. The instructors provide thorough guidance starting from the basics, so you can take on new challenges with confidence regardless of your previous experience. Most importantly, being surrounded by peers who share the same goals allows us to encourage one another and reach new heights together.

Embodying the Spiritual Culture of Japan

The taiko is an instrument that is deep and difficult to come into contact with. In this course, you will not only learn how to play the taiko, listen to music with your peers, acquire musical expression, and pass on the traditional performing arts, but you will also learn courtesy, preparedness, and cooperation.

Music that touches the heart and cheers the soul

The Wind Orchestra Company performs at ceremonies, school events, and cheering performances for each activity, and also expands its activities outside the school. Lessons are given by professional coaches for each instrument, enabling even beginners to perform. We deliver music that resonates with the heart through marching and performance, not limited to classroom performance.

Find a new you by refining your self-expression.

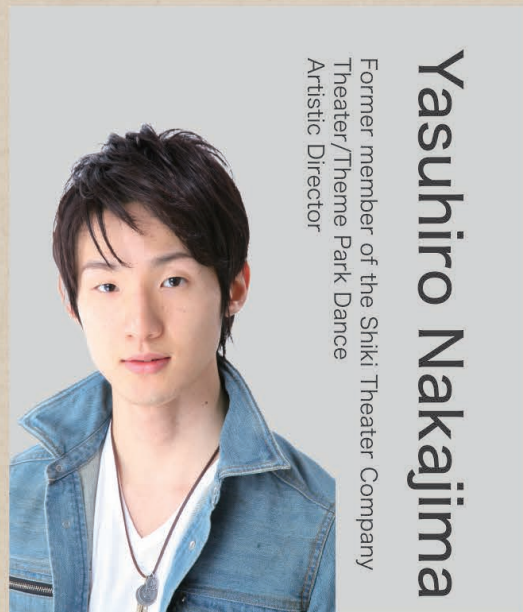

Students learn a wide range of dance genres such as ballet, theater dance, hip hop, and theater singing. Through many stage experiences and musical creations, students can cultivate their expressiveness and sensitivity. You will also learn etiquette, cooperation, and other elements necessary after entering the workforce.

Pilot Course

Toshitaka Kato ...

Graduate of Wajima Middle School, Ishikawa

In the Pilot Course, we study the essential subjects required to become a pilot—including Aviation Law, Meteorology, Principles of Flight, and Aviation Safety. These specialized and general subjects are taught in an easy-to-understand way by instructors who hold national certifications. Our campus features its own runway, allowing us to watch helicopters and airplanes take off and land right before our eyes. With a wealth of training equipment available, we can get hands-on experience with the concepts we learn in the classroom. It is a truly privileged environment for learning. Let's work together to become pilots and reach for the skies!

Mechanics and Ground Operations Course

A shortcut to becoming an aviation professional!
Training in aircraft operations and support work

Click here for an introduction to the Mechanic/ Ground Handling course

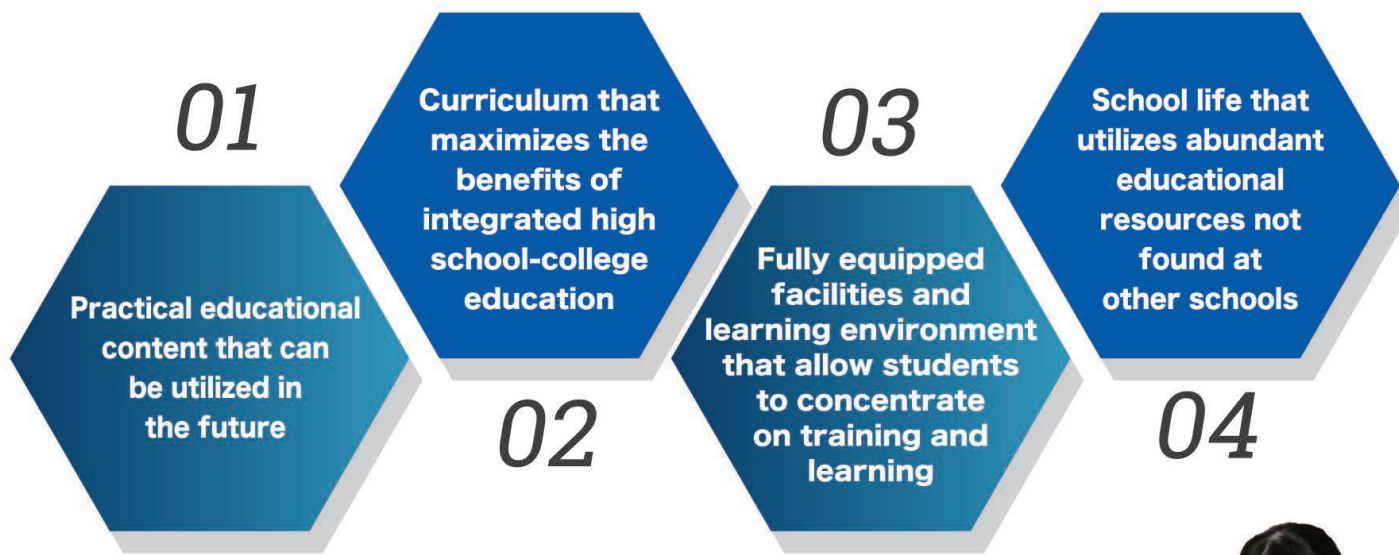

Mechanic • Ground Handling Course

Learn about aviation maintenance in general

Students learn about aircraft structures and the principles of flight through hands-on experiments and our extensive collection of cutaway models. By using professional tools and working with authentic aircraft components, you will master the fundamentals of aviation maintenance from the ground up. You will also learn the basics of ground handling, utilizing actual aircraft and specialized vehicles as your primary learning materials.

Mechanic & Ground Handling Course

Konatsu Tada ...

Graduate of Shimizu Dai-ichi Middle School, Shizuoka City

In the Mechanic & Ground Handling Course, our learning goes far beyond the classroom. In addition to aviation theory, we participate in practical training using actual retired aircraft and specialized ground support equipment. Since the program includes fundamental workshops on how to use professional tools, you can build a solid foundation in aircraft maintenance from the ground up.

Above all, studying alongside peers who share the same dreams and goals is incredibly encouraging. This is the ultimate environment for anyone aiming for a career in the aviation industry. Let's make the most of our school life together as we work toward our dreams!

Get to a top airline through integrated high school-college education

To prepare students for the numerous national certifications required in the aviation industry at the university level, our instructors—all of whom bring extensive industry experience—use authentic equipment to teach the essential knowledge and technical skills you truly need.

Yuhi Dormitory

Aviation Happy Life

This is how fun
should be!

All memories are made of people, time and place.

From the Dormitory Chief

We think it is important for students to spend their time away from their parents in the dormitory to feel a sense of healing and a bright home away from home. We are working every day to create an environment where students can live in peace.

Safe dormitory system

Only 3 minutes commute to school. Dormitory facilities are located on campus and safe. We dormitory staff are on duty 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. And we will respond promptly in case of sudden fever, and provide transportation to and from nearby medical facilities.

A Day in the Dormitory

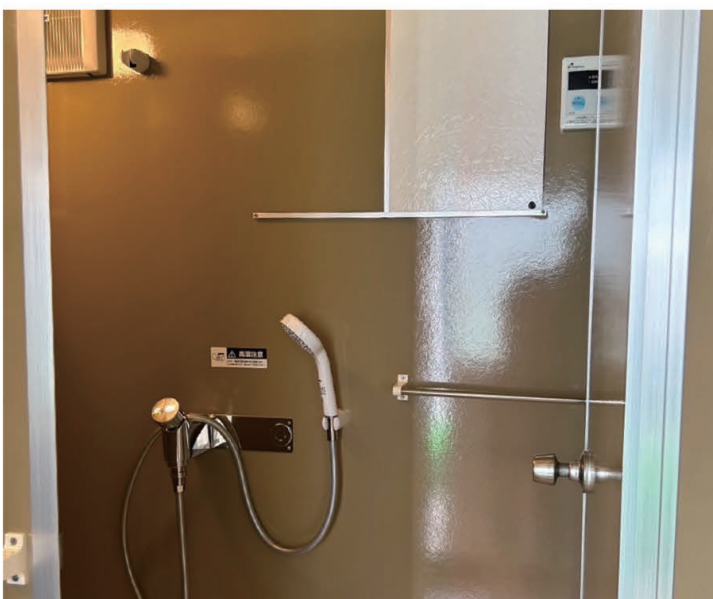

Restaurant Rainbow

Laundry with dryer

Relax in the bath made of lava stones

Shower rooms are available

Going out with permission

Luggage can be picked up at the dormitory

Meals that support school life

We prepare nutritious and well-balanced meals with a focus on “improving physical fitness” and “maintaining health” for students who are growing up. We prepare nutritionally balanced meals with a focus on “improving physical fitness” and “maintaining health” for students who are growing up. In addition, we also discuss with students at the time of enrollment about allergies, foreign students' religion, etc. We also provide individualized support for students with allergies and foreign students with religious beliefs, etc., by conducting a detailed interview at the time of enrollment.

Dinner time with friends

You can review today's lesson at Yuhi Study Room before the end of the day!

Japan Aviation Academy's 94-year history

Japan Aviation College,
Educational Corporation

Chairman
Umezawa Shigeo

We believe that the sight of our graduates soaring into the world of career education, engineering education, and international education that are needed in the rapidly developing aviation industry and in society of the future, and coming into contact with a wealth of knowledge and diverse values, is our joy and the mission of Japan Aviation College.

"The age of aviation is coming" - the starting point of aviation education as dreamed by the founder

In 1932, which can be said to be the dawn of the aviation industry in Japan, the "Aviation Engine Training Center", the parent of the Japan Aviation College, was opened. When Mr. Yoshizo Umezawa, the founder of the Japan Aviation College, was a university student in Tokyo, he happened to see a "flying machine", which was still very rare at the time, and learned that it was an airplane. The founder's strong belief and passion that "the age of aviation is coming" established the foundation that leads to today's school education.
